IT'S SCOTTY'S "BIRTHDAY" TOMORROW

It could be easy to forget that Scotty is world famous when you were born here or you've lived here for a while. It was only less than 5 years ago that Scotty was officially given the title "world's largest t-rex". Since then, the eyes of every dinosaur enthusiast wanting to see the record holder would have been drawn towards our little town of Eastend.

The girl was dug up 32 years ago on the Allemand land, and the stories of the exciting early days still come out when you're hanging around socializing with the original diggers. At 32 years on, the initial excitement may have died down with familiarity and the easy in-your-backyard proximity of the T.rex Discovery Centre, but it's always been a great place to explore the world of paleontology as well as darn fine place to host your kids birthday parties. The T.rex Discovery Centre is one of the jewels of Eastend. Wouldn't it be a good time for any one who hasn't been up to the T.rex Centre in a while to see the latest exhibits and enjoy a birthday party at the same time? Come to the T.rex Discovery from 10am tomorrow for the celebrations that include baked goodies and movies!

“The Far Edges”

The new gallery exhibit at the Eastend Library is a creative display of original rug hooking by Eastend textile artist Lynn Strom.

The images that Lynn designs are inspired by the vastness and textures of the prairie landscape. This unique medium captures the sense of space we experience when we look to the horizon. Lynn is a gifted artist who contemplates the rural surroundings and opens our senses to “The Far Edges” of our imagination.

Lynn will be at the Eastend Library on Saturday, August 26, 2– 4 pm for a meet and greet session for visitors to the show. The exhibition is open to the public until September 16 during regular Library hours.
