This Week Triways is picking up RECYCLING in the BLUE bins

Mosquito Spraying Starts This Week

The Town of Eastend has announced that fogging for mosquitos will take place starting this week, and every week on Thursday or Friday nights starting at dusk. I have been out walking my dog and been caught between a fresh laid trail of smog and my house. This new stuff is much less noxious on my lungs than the old malathion, but I still wouldn't recommend anyone subject themselves or their pets to lung fulls of it if you can avoid it.

EAC "UNDER THE ROOF" THURSDAY

Eastend Arts Council presents Canadian author Elinor Florence. Join her as she describes the inspiration behind her bestselling novel Bird's Eye View, about a Saskatchewan farm girl named Rose who joins the air force in the Second World War. Her one-hour presentation will start at 7 p.m. Thursday, June 20 at the Eastend Public Library. Her talk will appeal to both men and women of all ages. There is no charge to attend.

Elinor is winner of the 2024 Wallace Stegner Grant for the Arts.

GRAD ISSUE NEXT WEEK

Last Friday was graduation day for Eastend. For the students, families, and faculty it is stressful enough to cap off thirteen of schooling for the graduates and have it go smoothly, but last week was no normal graduation. Last week, the Sask Teachers Federation had a job action which prohibited any teachers from taking part in extra curricular activities including graduation. The Eastend parents were all set to step in and run the whole show, but at the last hour an agreement was reached and the faculty were free to take part. Importantly, this also cleared the way for special guest Mr.Randy Johnson to make his appearance and to give an emotional send off to his former pupils as they leave the warm comfort of childhood and prepare to embark on their first steps into the big wide world. Next week will feature our salute to the grads with photos of this years ceremony.

YEARS GONE BY - JUNE

The return of the highly popular "Years Gone By" section made possible by the Eastend Library, this week featuring a hundred years of Junes.

110 Years Ago – 1914

The first edition of the Enterprise was published on June 11, 1914. The subtitle for the paper was “The Garden Spot” and “East End for Industries”. Interesting that Eastend is spelled both ways (Eastend and East End) but mainly as East End.

A bituminous coal, better quality than lignite, has been found in the Eastend area by Mr. J.R. Cassidy, late of Oregon and now a resident of Eastend. He was one of the first to purchase a lot at the original sale of the townsite and has spent hours in the hills enjoying his hobby – mineralogy.

Eastend has the first company incorporated in Sask. for the purpose of developing the natural resources of the province which have proved, beyond doubt, to exist in Eastend. It was registered as the East End Gas, Coal and Oil C. and agents are Whiskin & Stevens as well as being agents for the Eastend Townsite Co.

The clay here has been subjected to many tests and has proved equal to the best of any clay on the American continent.

Some of the business people who advertised in this first paper were: W. J. Bates – Physician and Surgeon; G.S. Thornewall -Veterinary; Wilton's Automobile Garage; Uglum Lumber Co.; Geo. Barr Lumber Co.; Merchant's Bank of Canada; Union Bank of Canada; McPherson & Youngberg – Hardware & Implements; East End Garage- Crawford & Jones; McLeod's Livery Barn; Eastend Livery Stable – Crawford, Clark & Thompson; Kelsey's Drug Store; East End Restaurant and East End Laundry both operated by Wong Chong; Premier Butcher Shop – Klein Bros; East End Meat Market by Waring & McNeal; Wright & Jickling; City Barber Shop & Billiard Parlor by Gatschene & Puckett; East End Barer Shop & Pool Hall with Anderson Bros. and others.

The Presbyterian Church held services every Sunday morning and the Methodist Church held services every Sunday evening in Anderson's Hall.

G. Wohlfahrt, a farmer living near Kealy Springs, was shot through the shoulder with a 44 caliber revolver by his neighbor, D.N. Overton, during a dispute over a fence.

Mr. Mummery of Gull Lake has accepted the position as electrician for Messrs. Daniels and Thompson who are building the East End Picture Palace.

Ballasting the track is in full swing. CPR has opened a pit 4 miles west of East End and are placing 5 trains on the job. Some 200 tampers are tamping ties and it is expected that the track from Shaunavon thro to Eastend will be ballasted in the near future.

The Better Farming Train (made up of 7 cars) is being sent all over Sask. by the Dept. of Agriculture and visited East End. Residents could tour the various carts and afterward informative lectures were given. One car contained a gasoline engine which was running a cream separator, washing machine, grain grinder and bone grinder all running from one shaft demonstrating the utility of cheap gasoline for farm use. Another car displayed useful models of farm buildings. There were 2 cars of livestock including a Clydesdale stallion, cows, sheep, Berkshire and Yorkshire sows as well as poultry.

The first birth recorded in East End was a daughter born to Mr. & Mrs. W.P. Anderson.

Mr. R.V. Gregg's new house on his farm, adjoining the townsite, will soon be ready for Mrs. Gregg and family to come. (Later owned by Frank Rebbeck and still lived in).

At the sale of CPR townsites of Robsart and Vidora: 25 lots were sold at Robsart and 38 at Vidora with prices ranging from $100 - $250.

A group of East End ladies have gone camping, their tent was christened the “Crows' Nest”. Two local baseball teams, the “Fats” vs the “Leans” played with a final score of 8-3 in favor of the “Leans”.

100 Years Ago – No papers available
